Honor Study Breaks
Saturday Dec. 16th Hot Chocolate on Clemons Patio 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Have questions about citing your 25 page paper? Feeling tired, de-energized and in need of winter break? Honor is here to help! Take a break from writing those papers and studying for exams and come out to one of our finals study breaks this week. Honor representatives will be available to answer any questions you may have and to offer finals relief with coffee, donuts, green books and giveaways!

LOVE ART? WANT TO SHARE IT?

JOIN THE STUDENT DOCENT TEAM AT THE FRALIN MUSEUM AT THE UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA!

Give back to the University and Charlottesville communities by becoming a student docent. With flexible tour schedules, it is easy to share your passion for art. Gain experience in the museum by designing your own tours, learning about the museum’s astonishing collection, and accessing remarkable guest lectures.

January 4, 2013. Apply via email to be a student docent at the Fralin Museum at the University of Virginia by January 4, 2013. Please email all applications to kbh2cc@virginia.edu or physically hand it in at The Fralin Museum front desk. You will be contacted soon after to schedule your interview during the week of January 14, 2013. You will be notified of the decision the week after your interview.

The student docent application and more details can be found here.

Student docents complete a semester long training course that meets once a week for three hours. This year the course will meet on Fridays from 9:00-12:00 from February 1st-April 19th.

After completing the training process, students interact with residents of the Charlottesville community, old and young, as well as their peers at the University of Virginia. Student docents design their own tours, interweaving interesting and historical facts to highlight the prominent museum collection. With fascinating exhibitions taking place every semester, this is never a challenge!

For more information, please direct all emails to Kate Heckard at kbh2cc@virginia.edu or Virginia Soenksen at docenteducation@virginia.edu.
