Hoos in Recovery traces its beginning to the fall of 2006 when several students in recovery from alcoholism or substance addiction came together to discuss how to support one another and how to reach out to members of the University community. The first meeting of the group was held in January of 2007, and the name “Hoos in Recovery” was adopted later that spring.

Contact Us:

Email
HoosInRecovery@virginia.edu

See the full meeting schedule at www.virginia.edu/gordiecenter

Hoos in Recovery is supported by the Gordie Center for Substance Abuse Prevention at the University of Virginia. For more information about the Gordie Center call 434-924-5276 or go to www.virginia.edu/gordiecenter

“Recovery is spoken here.”
——Dr. Bruce Donovan
Who We Are:
Hoos in Recovery is an association of University undergraduate and graduate students, staff, faculty, and alumni in recovery from alcoholism or addiction. We are approximately 70 strong and represent many different groups within the University.

What We Do:
Our primary mission is to provide a support network for members of the University community in recovery.

What Can Hoos in Recovery Do for Me?
We can provide a non-judgmental, non-critical, anonymous forum for discussion with members of the University community who share common challenges. Please come if you are in recovery... if you think you might have a problem with alcohol, drugs or any other addiction... if you have a question or concern related to addiction or recovery. In short...

All with an interest are welcome.

Attend a Meeting:
During fall and spring semesters, we meet biweekly. Check the Gordie Center website for meeting times and locations. http://www.virginia.edu/gordiecenter
Food and beverages are provided.

What We Are Not:
Hoos in Recovery’s only affiliation is with the University of Virginia. We are not affiliated with any religious, AA, NA, or other addiction treatment programs.